

Tips for Attending NAWGJ On Line Clinics

See bottom of this newsletter for registration links

If you are registered for any of the NAWGJ On-Line clinics, here's some tips to facilitate your participation.

1. You should have a confirmation email from Zoom. If you can't find it, email Cookie Batsche and she will re-send the confirmation. Please try to find your confirmation email first so she doesn't have to respond to 350 emails!
2. Some participants have had to enter the passcode manually rather than copy and paste it from the confirmation email. If you have trouble joining, try to type in the numbers one at a time.
3. Some participants have not been able to join the meeting on the first or second try. If you aren't successful at first, try a couple more times. If you still aren't successful, try clearing your browser cache (search internet for instructions) and/or restart your device.
4. The meeting will open about 20 minutes before the start time. You may want to join early in case you need to trouble-shoot.
5. Depending on your internet speed, the video quality may occasionally be a little choppy when viewed in Zoom. The clinic videos play perfectly in the YouTube playlist developed for each clinic. The YouTube link will be visible in the Chat after the clinic starts. Just click on the link and it will open the YouTube playlist. If you are using a desktop or laptop, you can have both Zoom and YouTube open at the same time and easily toggle back and forth.
6. If you are using an iPad, it's easy to view Zoom and YouTube side-by-side as a split screen. Learn how to do this in one minute by watching this video. You will want to practice this before the clinic. You don't have to use split screen on your iPad but it will allow you to see the videos clearly on YouTube while following along in Zoom.

7. Please monitor your audio throughout to make sure it is on mute.

Unfortunately, there's not much we can do to help you after the meeting has started but we will try to help before the meeting starts.
