NAWGJ Professional Attire Guidelines

Gymnastics meets are events for children and young women. Judges are expected to dress appropriately for the occasion and to serve as role models for professionalism.

The NAWGJ contract specifies that judges must dress appropriately in the required uniform. Because the term "dress appropriately" can have many interpretations, this document is designed to help judges understand the expectations for wearing the NAWGJ uniform.

The official NAWGJ uniform includes an array of options to allow judges the flexibility to select a style that is comfortable for their individual body type. The unifying theme of all uniform pieces is its official color, *True Navy, and its emblem. The uniform options include a True Navy jacket or sweater with the NAWGJ logo, pants/skirt, or NAWGJ dress. Footwear should allow for safe navigation when moving between sets of equipment, over mats, and uneven surfaces. The uniform options are intended for all sex and gender identities to facilitate an inclusive and positive atmosphere in the judging community.

Clothing must be clean, wrinkle-free, and fit appropriately. Fabric should not be frayed or pilled.

USA Gymnastics Uniform Expectations (from Rules & Policies)

Judges are expected to dress appropriately, regardless of the level of competition, in the required uniform (Navy skirt/pants and jacket, white blouse/shirt with the exception of theme invitationals). Judges may also wear a NAWGJ True Navy dress and NAWGJ True Navy sweater (with the dress, skirt, or pants) available on the NAWGJ uniform site. Leggings are not allowed by USA Gymnastics. Judges are required to wear the navy suit jacket at USAG state meets and above or when requested by the Meet Director.

National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA)

The NAWGJ uniform jacket with emblem is required at NCAA competitions. A NAWGJ sweater may be worn under the jacket.

Other Organizations

The NAWGJ uniform is the expectation for judges assigned to meets for organizations other than USAG and NCAA unless the organization has its own uniform.

Suggestions for Theme Meets

Occasionally, Meet Directors will ask judges to wear clothing that corresponds to the theme of the meet. Attire worn for theme meets should follow professional expectations (no jeans, sweatshirts, or t-shirts unless the theme suggests this is appropriate). Judges who choose not to wear the suggested theme attire should wear the official uniform. If a Meet Director asks judges to wear costumes for a theme meet, the costume must be appropriate for a youth event.

^{*}True Navy is the name of the official color of the NAWGJ uniform.
